

VITA JANIE MOYERS

Janie Moyers is a training consultant, organization development specialist, and executive coach in the Organization & Leadership Development Department (OLD), and a member of the Office of Human Capital (OHC) at the Marshall Space Flight Center (MSFC), in Huntsville, Alabama.

Ms. Moyers has a Bachelor of Science degree from Athens State University in the Technology of Business and an Associates Degree from Calhoun Community College. Her many years of experience in the training and development arena has provided great opportunities to further gain expertise in organizations as well as individual development solutions.

Her certifications include Consulting Skills for Trainers from Langevin Learning Services; Project Management Certification from the American Graduate University; Organization Development Certification from Linkage Corporation; and Situational Leadership Trainer Certification from the Ken Blanchard Company. She is a trained executive coach certified through the Newfield Network Program and Fast Track Coaching Program.

As a training and organization development manager she has mainly supported the Procurement Office and the Chief Financial Office at Marshall Space Flight Center, Ms. Moyers monitored, evaluated and consulted with managers to provide essential training needs in procurements, contracts, financial accounting, budgeting, as well as management and leadership skills. Additionally, she monitors and coordinates a developmental program for newly hired interns and employees who have been appointed to business professional and engineering positions in the Professional Intern Program (PIP) and Federal Career Intern Program.

Janie helped design a training management software for agency wide implementation. The AdminSTAR software which made it possible for employees to register for training on-line from their desktops as well as provided a tool for the training office to record and coordinate training instances electronically. In use for five successful years, this software is now being updated by the SATERN agency software.

Janie is the former Amanda J. Jones from Jones Crossroads where her family has farmed for more than 100 years, in Athens. Janie's family consists of 2 children both married and out of the nest, and 6 beautiful grandchildren.